Post-Gazette, Campos Inc. partners on research project

The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette has partnered with Downtown-based market research firm Campos Inc. to launch VOICE of the Region, a free online community that gauges public opinion on local and national issues. VOICE of the Region members participate in polls, surveys and forums. The membership already numbers in the thousands and was developed by local technology polling firm CivicScience. To join the VOICE of the Region community, visit www.post-gazette.com/vor.
